

CIM Research Award

December 2025

We are very proud to share that a highly valued member of the Clinton Investment Management team, Alexander Clinton, has been bestowed with Smith's Research & Gradings 2025 Rising All-Star Municipal Analysts Award. This honor recognizes individuals for outstanding contributions to and achievements within the municipal bond investment community.

Alex, working alongside Shivani Singh, Head of Credit Research, is a core member of our research team and his professional integrity, diligence, attention to detail, and ability to correlate and connect dots in a broader credit perspective is impressive. This award recognizes his hard work, talent, and perseverance, creating significant value for our clients.

Congratulations to Alex for earning this prestigious award!
